DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 7, 8 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no support for subject matter of claims 7 and 15 in the specification.

3. Claims 7, 8 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claims 7 and 15 recites the limitation of the operation at atmospheric pressure. However, in line 3 of page 7 of the specification, the invention discloses an all enclosing reactor vessel and nowhere else discloses the operation of the method at atmospheric pressure.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 22, the claim is indefinite for reciting a fluid as a structure of the claimed apparatus.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 and § 103

Art Unit: 1753

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-6, 9-14 and 16-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by LEWIS (5,069,765), a reference cited by Applicant. LEWIS' invention is directed to a method of manufacturing combustible gaseous products. LEWIS discloses in the abstract; sole Figure; and col. 3, line 20 through col. 4, line 55.

Art Unit: 1753

As to the subject matter of claim 4, 12, and 17, since LEWIS discloses the same replenishing step, LEWIS' method inherently possesses the recited continuous operation of the arc at constant voltage. And the same is applied to the subject matter of claim 21 as LEWIS discloses the pumping (the transferring) of the carbonaceous material through the arc.

4. Claims 1-5, 16-19, 22-25, 28 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by DAMMANN et al. (5,417,817), another reference cited by Applicant. See abstract; Fig. 2; and col. 1, lines 30-38; col. 2, lines 47-57; and col. 3, lines 56-64.

5. Claims 6, 9-14, 20, 21, 26 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over DAMMANN '917. The difference between DAMMANN and the instant claims is the directing the fluid through the arc. The subject matter as a whole would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified DAMMANN's teachings because the provision of mechanical means or automatic means to replace manual activity has been held to be obvious, In re Venner 120 USPQ 192.
